FLINT'S MAYOR MADE DICTATOR TO KEEP PEACE

Declares His Position With General Motors Will Not Affect His Decisions

CITY STILL VERY TENSE

Troops Alert as Conference
Continues Between Warring
Factions in Detroit

By The Associated Press
FLINT Mich. Feb. 9.—Mayor Harold E. Bradshaw political veteran at 38 became a virtual dictator today in this strike-ravaged city of 160,000 persons.

The city commission declaring a state of emergency last night thrust full responsibility for maintaining law and order into Bradshaw's hands as the General Motors strike passed its 42nd day.

The mayorality is a part time position under the city manager form of government in effect here and in private life Mayor Bradshaw is employed in the sales distribution division of the Buick Motor Co. a General Motors unit.

Promises Fairness

He said however that his General Motors connection would make no difference and that he intended to be fair to all sides.

Normally the office of mayor has only nominal power. He sits as president of the nine member commission which shares the municipal control with the city manager.

The action came swiftly and unexpectedly without debate and two dissenting votes while tension worn military and civil leaders watched the protracted strike peace conference between opposing leaders at Detroit.

National guard officers with more than 3,000 gunmen quartered in nine sections of the city intensified their vigilance. Word that the Detroit parley would continue through another day was welcomed in many quarters.

Mayor Gagged

Although Mayor Bradshaw was in effect a dictator he had no public voice. Like other city officials he came under a gag rule laid down Saturday by the city commission. City Attorney Hoffman was made the official city spokesman and all other officials were barred from making public statements.

Hoffman issued a brief statement concerning the delegation of power to Bradshaw. He said:

In the time of an emergency such as now exists the action was deemed advisable for the purpose of coordinating all the city departments. It in no way reflects on the city manager or any department head.

No official sources could comment on what the commission's action might mean to the police reserves organized last week by City Manager John M. Barninger. He proved of his power by last night's action.

Barninger went before the commission to answer a series of

Bill to Permit U. S. Action In Lower Courts Okayed by Judiciary Committee

Measure Giving Attorney General Right To Take Part in Cases Involving Constitutional Issue
Embodies One of Roosevelt's Proposals

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON Feb. 9.—The house judiciary committee approved today a measure to authorize the attorney general to participate in lower court cases between private parties where a constitutional question is involved.

The bill—sponsored by Chairman Sumners Democrat of Texas—of the committee—embodies one of the principal proposals in President Roosevelt's broad court reorganization program.

No action was taken today on the other proposals.

Sen. Robinson Democrat leader or advocated today a change in the retirement age of judges under the President's program from 70 to 75 years.

Emphasizing that he was speaking for himself only and not the administration, Robinson told new paper men, "I am inclined to think the age had better be 75 than 70."

Under the Robinson plan three members of the supreme court would be affected immediately. In place of Chief Justice Hughes, would come within range of the program in the next few months. Scores of compromise proposals for federal court reorganization bobbed up in discussions among congressmen deluged with telegrams from the public bench home to the President's sweeping reorganization.

Constitutional amendments in curbing the supreme court's power to declare law unconstitutional or to limit justices' terms were prominent in these suggestions.

At that time came from Democrats who considered too stringent Mr. Roosevelt's proposal to add six supreme court justices once a month.

BEAM OF LIGHT COMES OUT OF LATEST PARLEY

No Details of Probable Solution Given Discussions To Be Renewed Tonight

ROOSEVELT TAKES HAND

Makes No Demand on Either Side but Expresses Desire for Settlement

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO Feb. 9.—Roosevelt hopes for an agreement ending the widespread strike shutdowns in General Motors automotive plants found expression today during a recess in the peace conference of opposing leaders here.

An authoritative source indicated that the negotiators in last night's extended conference had found what they believed might be the answer to the dispute between the gigantic corporation and striking members of the United Automobile Workers of America.

No details of the plan were disclosed. It this source said that it might be a ray of light.

Talk With Roosevelt

He added that President Roosevelt self-reported at the White House to have talked Saturday night to Gov. Frank Murphy, William S. Knickerbocker, General Motors vice president and John I. Lewis, strike generalissimo participating in the conference here, he made a demand on either side except to express his desire for an agreement.

The governor in today's recess pending resumption of the peace parley tonight, devoted his attention to state administrative affairs.

The almost complete silence that has marked six days of conferences between representatives of the corporation and striking union members was broken last night with the issuance of a formal statement by the automobile company of its position.

Until then Gov. Frank Murphy who called the parties together at the behest of President Roosevelt had made the only public comments upon the proceedings. General Motors' first statement was followed a few hours later by one from John L. Lewis, director general of the strike.

Ready to Reconcile

The corporation assured Gov. Murphy of its readiness to respond to an early call by him to resume conferences if in his judgment any good could result therefrom.

Lewis revealed for the first time that a proposal had been under consideration to resume operations in General Motors plants immediately if the corporation would accept the union's demand for recognition as the bargaining agency for employees in 20 plants.

Notwithstanding the divergence of opinions expressed in the statements of the opposing sides, Murphy declared that he felt the parties were closer together now than at any time.

The governor announced they would reconvene at 9:30 p. m. tonight.

Last night's crucial meeting—which the governor had said would be brief—lasted six hours and there were indications that the deadlock might result in a cessation at least temporarily of the consultations.

Loss in Wages Mounts

An sitdown strikers remained in two higher body plants at Flint Mich. focal point of the strike, for the 42nd day and 40 of the 67 General Motors plants of General Motors were either closed or operating on a restricted basis, the loss in earnings to workers continued to mount.

A reliable source estimated the total payroll loss, including today, as $22,000,000. The loss in business to the company was incalculable as its factory wheels slowed down to the point that not a single passenger car was being completed. The General Motors truck division, however, was running at top speed.

More than 100,000 General Motors employees were idle.

The number of workers in related industries—suppliers of materials and parts—was estimated in the tens of thousands, but no accurate figures were available.

Some 60,000 General Motors men of General Motors and others were affected, some of whom were sent to the streets to keep the peace.

COUNCIL VOTES EXTENSION FOR 25-YEAR PERIOD

Action Taken in Return for $10,866 Reduction in
Street Light Bill

AUTHORIZE NEW CONTRACT

Decision Also Made To Appeal
Powell Pay Case, Appropriation Vote Delayed.

City council last night granted the Marion Reserve Power Co. a 25-year franchise and a 10-year street lighting contract in return for a $10,866 reduction in the city's annual payments for street lighting and heat. Mayor Smith called a recent municipal court statement regarding the income tax receipts of the court in its 10-year history.

Council also gave authority by a 5-4 vote to City Solicitor Ralph L. Carhart to carry to the court of appeals the $500 judgment obtained against the city by John Howell former municipal clerk for salary deductions during an economy program and struck a snag on an ordinance proposing to correct a duplication of appropriations for January salaries.

The Marion Reserve Power Co. franchise replacing one that would expire in nine years received an unanimous vote after Mayor Smith had explained the measure was little more than an expression of goodwill toward the company.

Does Not Bar Others

The 25-year franchise the mayor emphasized does not give the company the exclusive privilege of selling electric current nor would it stand in the way of any movement toward a municipal electric power plant.

He said the city could construct and operate a municipal plant at any time it chose, and could contract with another company to furnish service in the city without violating the franchise. Chief purpose of both the franchise and the sale ordinance he said is to improve the company's position on the bond market in connection with a refinancing program that is part of the recent merger of a group of companies into the Marion Reserve Power Co.

The savings in the city's long-term interest on the floating rates for street lights. The company's annual charge of $14,200 a year for this service is cut to $3,334 by the new 10-year ordinance replacing one that will expire in two years. In addition the company offers the city a 10 per cent reduction on the condition the street lighting bills are paid within the year the service is furnished.

Statement from Franchise

The franchise is a four-page document granting to the Marion Reserve Power Co. its successors and assigns the right privilege and franchise to acquire, construct, maintain and operate an electric light and power plant with all of the appurtenances and to erect and maintain poles and structures in along over, under, across and upon the streets, avenues, ways and public grounds in the city of Marion, O. and any extension thereof or additions thereto and to attach to the poles and structures cables, wires, fixtures, transformers, lamps and appliances required for the proper reception, transmission, distribution and utilization of electrical energy for light, heat and power and for such other purposes as the advance in the art may make possible, proper or convenient including such rights, privileges and franchises as may be necessary or proper in the business of generating, receiving, transmitting, distributing or selling electric energy for light, heat or power and for such other purposes as the advance in the art may make possible, proper or convenient. This statement is the heading of the ordinance granting the franchise.

The new rate for street lighting provides a minimum charge of $25,000 annually for the city and sets up the cost to the city for various types of lights, with the understanding the annual bill would be increased if the city has additional lights installed.

Consent to authorize the city solicitor to carry the appeal was given to the ordinance which was given the affirmative vote of 5-4. The ordinance was given the affirmative vote of 5-4. The ordinance was given the affirmative vote of 5-4.

CONGRESS OKAY ON RELIEF BILL

$950,000,000 Deficiency Act
Sent to President After
Speaker Bankhead Signs

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON Feb. 9.—The $950,000,000 relief deficiency bill ended its legislative career when Speaker Bankhead signed it last night in the theater box where he had gone from a house session to see his actress daughter Tallulah.

The senate and the house faced by the threatened suspension of relief payments labored until late yesterday to adjust their differences over the appropriation.

Roosevelt signed the bill today. It carries $788,000,000 intended to keep at least 2,500,000 persons on WPA jobs until June 30.

Other funds provided in the bill (civilian conservation corps $80,000,000 1937 seed loans $50,000,000 miscellaneous $18,000,000).

Should any WPA money be used for emergency flood relief congress will be asked to reimburse the relief agency in a latter deficiency measure.

Compromise on WPA

The chief dispute—whether congressional committees should be allowed to use relief funds for investigations—was compromised in a ban on borrowing certain personnel from relief agencies effective in 30 days.

With this important legislation completed congress turned its attention to the President's two major proposals so far this session—reorganization of the courts and the government's executive departments.

The supreme court which Mr. Roosevelt would increase from nine to 10 justices or 70 did not retire was hearing arguments on the constitutionality of the Wagner act guaranteeing labor the right to bargain collectively.

The President's plan for reorganizing executive departments came before a joint committee of senators and representatives. It will draw up bills to embody Mr. Roosevelt's broad recommendations which range from creation of two new cabinet posts to new pay scales for civil service.

The house voted to remove the ban against teaching communism in schools of the District of Columbia but retained its jurisdiction against instructors advocating such views.

The La Follette committee's proposed inquiry into the Black Legion and other alleged anti-violence groups if congress would grant it request for $200,000 expenses.

House leaders hoped to obtain passage today of an extension of the President's power to make reciprocal trade treaties with other nations. Republicans sought to curb the power.

HEARTY RESPONSE GREET'S WORD OF COOKING SCHOOL

Homemakers in This Vicinity
Reserve Four Days Next
Week for Lectures

Apparently a welcome invitation never requires repetition. The given invitation for a homemakers' convention next week in The Star addition was printed yesterday by the prospective host.

The Star brought a prompt response from many sections of the community. Already it is safe to say that the cooking school dates the afternoon of Feb. 16, 17, 18 and 19 are reserved in red on hundreds of kitchen calendars. For the call to excel in cooking, many know no restrictions and young brides and experienced housekeepers alike thrill to the adventure of culinary achievement.

Certainly there is adventure in selecting the homomomolog declares Mrs. Bertha Harris the competent authority on household who will conduct the cooking school.

Housework becomes drudgery only when we allow ourselves to be forced into such a routine that the house runs us. We need to use imagination in planning, flavoring, cooking and in eating tempting meals and chiefly we need to use the amazing mechanical servility which are being provided to simplify the once difficult tasks.

Mrs. Harris practices far more than she preaches during the year for her platform demonstrations are merely the show products of long periods of personal experimentation with modern home equipment as well as with appetizing new dishes.

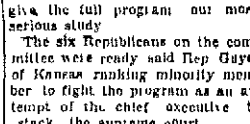

The popular one-dish meals that are coming more and more to the fore stand high in this home experts estimation and she will demonstrate such simple cookery in company with economy suggestions dressed up with fluffy pastries designed to fill a variety of occasions.

Mrs. Harris issues a reminder that The Star's invitation to next week's school is not limited to established homemakers. Home economics classes in the high schools of Marion and vicinity will be welcomed at the daily conferences on home problems. Particularly will the welcome sign be

MATTSON KILLING SUSPECT QUIZZED

By The Associated Press
PEMBINA N. D. Feb. 9.—Federal officials questioned today Stanislaus Poracki 34 about the kidnapping of 19-year-old Charles Mattson of Tacoma, Wash.

Immigrant officials said Poracki arrested at Joffette N. D. on a charge of illegal entry from Canada, bore a resemblance to the description of the slayer.

Mrs. Bertha Harris

Some congressional observers saw a possible modification of the program in a statement of Chairman Sumners that the committee would approve formally today a bill embodying one of the President's proposals authorizing the attorney general to defend acts of congress against attacks on their constitutionality in lower court suits to twenty private parties.

This bill was approved informally at a meeting last Thursday the day before the President outlined his program.

The committee already has approved Sumners bill to make supreme court justices with 10 years service eligible for retirement at full pay on reaching 70.

Many Remain Silent

A large majority of senators and representatives including many southern Democrats remained silent on the President's program. Among compromise suggestions heard in the Capitol were these:

A constitutional amendment to give the federal government authority to handle national problems affecting labor and agriculture.

A constitutional amendment to require concurrence of seven members to the city. All of this amount was used for paying the operating cost of the municipal government. Adding $68,878 to the $1,332 deficit sustained by the court in its 10 years of operation, we have sustained a net loss of revenue of $68,446. In other words, if there had been no municipal court in the city of Marion would have had in the last 10 years $68,446 more to operate its government. And that is assuming that the revenues were the same in the last 10-year period as in the previous 10-year period. But a mayor's court was in operation when the population of the city was much smaller than in the last 10-year period, hence based on reasonable allowances and calculations, probably the city is losing $10,000 a year as a result of the institution of the municipal court.

"Since the city is in the most dire need of funds for operating, we think this heavy loss of revenue should be of no little concern to the citizens of Marion." Council heard the mayor's message without comment.

Report for 1936

These developments came in the wake of the recent completion of the municipal court's financial statement for 1936 in which Clerk Mary E. Kelleher, deputy city clerk, a net profit to the city of $778.72, the largest amount of funds earned by the city by the court since 1931. Details of the 1936 report are as follows:

The total receipts of the court during the past year were $13,291.39 of which $11,410.31 was distributed to the city, county and state. The remaining $1,881.08 is listed under miscellaneous expenditures which includes money turned over to the court as bond and later paid back to the bondsmen.

Of the actual receipts distributed to the city, county and state, $11,410.31, the amount reaches the highest figure since 1931 when a total of $13,635.11 was distributed. In 1931 the court showed an operating profit to the city of $1,463.91, the following year a loss of $1,081.71, in 1933 a loss of $760.50, in 1934 a profit of $283.88 and in 1935 a loss of $1,069.49.

In the criminal division of the court 782 cases were listed in the 1936 records in which funds totaling $9,348.89 were collected. This number of civil cases totaled 653 from which receipts amounting to $1,977.05 were collected.

Of the amount collected in the criminal proceedings $9,597.80 was paid to the city of Marion, while the county received $1,657.33, the state $803.60. Of the amount paid the state $178.85 was derived from fines in state liquor law violations and $329.07 from state highway patrol cases.

A total of $8,905.25 was paid to the city, including $6,697.80 as its share in the criminal cases, $1,977.05 collected in civil cases and $50.47 as its share in handling the wage pay assignments, bringing the city's share to a total of $8,905.25. The city expenditures, including salaries, jury witnesses, in criminal expense and equipment was $7,853.60. The county and township share in the expense by contributing $1,500 and $500 respectively, to the judge's salary.

In addition to the convention, civil suits which the court handles wage pay assignments netted receipts of $88.47 for the court's work of collecting a total of $8,155.43. The court is permitted to charge one per cent on wage pay assignments. The purpose of the procedure is to assign a portion of an employer's pay to each creditor and

EGG DISTRIBUTION SET FOR WEDNESDAY

10,000 Sent Here for Direct
Net Clients

A shipment of 10,000 eggs to be distributed to Marion and township relief clients, was received here today and will be distributed to eligible recipients Wednesday. Carl Campbell, community distributor announced at the same time that one half ton of grape fruit will be distributed.

The eggs were received at Marion field in refrigerator cars and brought here by truck. Tomorrow's distribution, which will begin at 9 o'clock will be made to direct relief clients and supplemented WPA families. Campbell said none of the eggs will be given to "one relief clients" or to persons who do not bring their own containers.

The distribution will continue throughout the day and relief officials request that eligible applicants appear out their homes to the headquarters at 121 South Prospect street throughout the day and avoid an early hour rush. The amount of eggs received provides enough to reach all the eligible applicants, Campbell said.

COUNCIL GRANTS NEW ELECTRIC FRANCHISE

search for salary waiters at city hall which might have a bearing on the case.

The proposed ordinance to eliminate the duplication of appropriations for January salaries was given three readings but did not come up for final vote for want of a second to the motion to adjourn. It is expected that members of council said they feared the measure might meet defeat at the hands of a minority of members believed opposed to it. The meeting last night was adjourned to tonight apparently in the hope Councilman Stiefel, finance committee chairman might be able to attend and bolster the forces supporting the amendment.

Unless the duplicate appropriations are stricken out by amendment there will be a sufficient appropriation in the salary accounts to permit officials fighting pay cuts to draw their full salaries this year. One official pointed out.

A bill for approximately $40 for insurance on money in the garbage department safe presented by a Marion insurance agent was tabled for later consideration by the finance committee. John Ruth, service director said he ordered the insurance discontinued last April but that the agent nevertheless had furnished the insurance and strained to keep it for it.

Compensation Bill

How the city will be able to pay legally approximately $100 in interest to a Marion bank for the benefit of furloughed firemen who upon their return to work last fall were unable to draw compensation for their 1936 services until 1937 was discussed but not settled. The state examiner officials said has advised the city any attempt to pay the interest will result in a lawsuit. He suggested that the interest be paid directly to the firemen in the form of a pay increase with the understanding the firemen would repay the money to the bank but a policy of handling the payments was not decided upon. Officials contend the city is morally obligated to pay the interest because it was not the fault of the firemen that they could not draw part of their 1936 salary as it became due.

Annual report of the Marion City hospital was read listing a financial loss of $433.10 so far as actual receipts and expenditures are concerned but showing a profit of $958.61 after the city had reimbursed the institution for $5738.71 in charity work. This profit compares with a loss of $647.24 in 1935 according to the report.

Sleuth Explains How He Spied on Labor Official

Former Pinkerton Agent Tells of Listening in on McGrady in Toledo Hotel

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Former Pinkerton detective William H. Martin told senate investigators today he was instructed to "shadow" Edward L. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor while McGrady was in Toledo in May 1935.

Martin said Pinkerton officials ordered him to take a room near McGrady's in the Seagrave hotel and to listen to the confidential "cover" conversations.

This attempt failed the youthful slick-haired former employee of the national detective agency related because McGrady's voice did not penetrate the hotel partition.

On another occasion he failed to follow McGrady because he mistook a cab Martin said.

I got hell for that he added. Sam H. Brady, superintendent of the Pinkerton agency at Cincinnati told investigators he had an informant in the Fisher Body plant at Norwood O until Jan. 31 to report on union and radical activities.

Brady testified before the La Follette civil liberties committee that his undercover agent was operating as a member of the United Automobile Workers now conducting a strike in Fisher Body and other General Motors Corp. plants.

The Pinkerton official related he had urged another spy working as nightwatchman in the Cincinnati office of the Brotherhood of Railroad Clerks to take confidential data from that union's files.

When you tell someone to take secret material from somebody's files what do you call that? asked Sen. Thomas Democrat of Utah.

"That would be unethical or a sharp practice," Brady answered.

As a matter of fact you were guilty as an accessory to petty larceny, weren't you? demanded Chairman La Follette Progressive of Wisconsin.

Brady's answer was not audible. Brady testified the Fisher Body plant informant was Fred Webber who had been in the employ of the Pinkerton agency since 1934.

DAVEY FACES SENATE TEST ON RELIEF BILL

Urges Finance Committee To Alter Measure To Provide Matched Aid to Counties

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O. Feb. 5.—The administration faces its first real test of strength in the Ohio senate today as it sought to compel the counties to share part of the financial burden of poor relief.

Repulsed in the house which voted to grant outright to the counties $3,000,000 for poor relief and $1,000,000 for flood relief, Gov. Martin L. Davey called in the senate finance committee and urged that the $1,000,000 bill be amended to conform with his wishes.

The question was would members of the senate obey their counties which oppose matching state grants with local funds of aid by the administration's wishes.

Twenty-four of the 36 members of the senate are from counties which did not have funds until the relief bill in January. The state relief commission said that representative counties which have exhausted their relief funds and can have no more care bonds to obtain additional money. They are Cuyahoga, Hamilton, Lucas, Muskingum and Seneca.

Although the senate did not refer the house relief bill which would provide funds only until April 15 to the finance committee that group will conduct an in-formal hearing on it at 5 o'clock tonight.

Gov. Davey proposed that the finance committee amend the house bill to provide $1,000,000 for flood relief and $3,000,000 for poor relief to be distributed on a basis of need. The counties would be required to match $1,000,000 with local funds.

Gov. Davey suffered defeat in his plan to make local subdivisions finance more of their local needs when the house motor vehicles committee killed his proposal to redistribute the automobile license fees.

The administration bill sponsored by Rep. Samuel A. Anderson Democrat of Licking proposed to cut counties share of the automobile license revenues from 47 percent to 27 percent and increase the state's share from 27 to 50 percent.

Approved of almost unanimous opposition to his proposal from county municipal and township officials the governor had told the committee he was willing to compromise on a smaller portion for the state than the bill proposed. Two efforts to compromise however were defeated before the committee unanimously tabled the bill.

HIGH WINDS IMPERIL FLOOD RIDDEN AREA

By The Associated Press
MEMPHIS, Tenn. Feb. 5.—A wave of high winds sweeping across the Mississippi valley today along with sustained heavy rain and strong gusts held the Red Cross began mapping rehabilitation plans for the valley.

Winds up to 38 miles an hour out of the northwest rolled across against the sturdy dikes but army engineers reported no major damage and with the peaks past Memphis reiterated belief the worst was over.

Red Cross officials faith in this view was reflected in shaping of a tentative months long rehabilitation program for 75,000 refugees in Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Western Kentucky.

The death toll reached 431. The refugee list dropped steadily from its peak of nearly a million but hundreds of thousands still were homeless.

SITDOWN STRIKERS OUST 35 SENT IN

By The Associated Press
DETROIT, Mich. Feb. 5.—Sitdown strikers occupying the Kelvinator Corp. factory here rejected 35 men sent into the plant as fire insurance inspectors and then welded shut the door of the administration building to prevent executives and office employees from entering today.

Fighting broke out for the first time in the week and controversy when the union men forcibly took the men from the plant. William Cooper chairman of the Mechanics Educational Society of America and the strikers seized an assortment of badges which belonged to retired police officers and deputy sheriffs and found four pistols in cars parked near the factory.

Special to The Star
MT. GILEAD, O. Feb. 4.—Frank Gruber, Mt. Gilead hardware merchant, president of council and a former associate of the Van Atta Hardware Co. of Marion, was acting mayor today, taking over duties of Harry C. Little who died suddenly Sunday of cerebral hemorrhage.

Mr. Gruber's first act was to issue a proclamation urging business houses to close from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. today during funeral services for Mr. Little at the residence.

Arrangements have been made for Mr. Gruber to be sworn in at a meeting of council Monday night to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Little ending Jan. 1, 1935. Election of a president of council and selection of a council member to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Mr. Gruber also may be considered.

Ray Tennant who ranked seventh in the voting two years ago when six councilmen were chosen is considered a probable appointee to fill Mr. Gruber's place on council.

Mr. Gruber has been in the hardware business in Mt. Gilead for 12 years. Prior to that he spent one and one-half years in Florida and from 1914 to 1924 was associated with the Van Atta Hardware Co. in Marion.

COURT REFORM BILL WINS FIRST OKAY

bers of the supreme court to invalidate a law.

A constitutional amendment limiting judges' terms to a certain number of years Sen. Morris had introduced. It was among the proponents of this limitation.

Simple legislation to require 7 to 9 decisions on constitutional questions.

A new liberal pension law to encourage retirement of supreme court members.

One suggestion regarded by informed senators as more likely of adoption than any of the others is a compromise finally should be effected, would raise the age limit in the President's proposal from 70 to 75 years.

This would reduce from six to three the number of justices affected but two more would come with it in its limits in a few months.

500 TAX SUIT WARNINGS GO OUT TO LANDOWNERS

First Foreclosure Actions of County Officials Set for Rural Districts

Nearly 500 notices of impending foreclosure actions have been sent to landowners of rural Marion county whose real estate taxes have become delinquent. Walter D. Moore, assistant prosecuting attorney in charge of the county's campaign to collect approximately $300,000 in past due real property taxes, announced today. The notices cover all the townships of the county except Marion which contains the largest number of delinquent tracts approximately 3,000 belonging to about 1,000 persons.

Already the effect of the warnings has been evident in the office of County Treasurer Homer D. Cole where many taxpayers have come in to pay their back taxes or to make arrangements for paying in order to save their property from the foreclosure mill.

Notice to taxpayers of Marion township and city probably will be mailed out this week after a thorough checking of accounts by Mr. Cole and his staff.

To File Suits Soon

The first suits against the delinquent landowners probably will be filed within two weeks in common pleas court with Treasurer Cole named as plaintiff. Mr. Moore said county Auditor Harry A. Mounts is preparing certificates of delinquency on which the court actions are based as rapidly as possible and now has 17 ready for the assistant prosecutor.

Mr. Moore issued a last minute warning to the landowners involved to clear up their accounts before action is taken in court. Otherwise defendants stand to lose both homes and money for court costs of the county will be displaced.

It is expected the rural sections before Marion city and environs. A large part of the 3,000 tracts in Marion township are vacant lots in the outskirts of the city and are owned principally by real estate companies or brokers.

The total number of delinquent parcels in the county is 1,917.

Personal Tax Drive

Meanwhile the drive for collection of approximately $50,000 in delinquent personal property taxes is nearing the court stage also. Mr. Moore said he has mailed 1,000 notices representing all the delinquent taxpayers in this classification. In response to these notices and earlier ones in December by Mr. Cole $200 in past due personal property taxes has been paid.

The first personal suits will be filed against approximately 40 residents of Prospect township in municipal court this week. Suits against about 600 Marion city residents will begin probably Monday, Mr. Moore said.

RED CROSS REPORT PRAISES VOLUNTEERS

Miss Alice Mann Lists 152 Hours of Work Donated by 27 Persons.

Work done by volunteers to assist in raising the $10,000 to be reported as today's total in flood relief funds was emphasized in a report made at a monthly meeting of the Marion County Red Cross chapter executive board last night. Today's total included $11.50 contributed by the Marion Hill service station as each profits from sales of gasoline on Saturday and contributed to the work of the Red Cross disaster forces throughout the county.

A total of 152 hours work was given by 27 persons who volunteered in the chapter when the call for flood relief funds came in Jan. 23. According to a report made last night by Miss Alice Mann, volunteer chairman.

The volunteers assisted in collecting in the business district, placing contents in the stores and banks, collecting funds at homes where the members could not be in the upland district; and still are active in making collections from the contributors every day or two. Gene Hill, disaster chairman, gave a brief talk on the work of the Red Cross disaster forces throughout the county.

Monthly reports by other chairmen included a report by Mrs. J. M. Quigley that Junior Red Cross boys and girls have sent 100 trading books to the Manchester school in Adams county to replace lost books. Mrs. Quigley also announced that a new class in home hygiene and care of the sick will be started in the near future.

Miss Lillian Plack, executive secretary, reported 481 office interviews during the month not including hundreds of visits from persons with contributions for the flood relief fund and 19 visits to homes. Quigley said at the close of the night of the flood fund drive kept Miss Plack from the usual number of home visits. Forty-seven of the interviews were with ex-service men.

After the meeting Dr. F. L. Thomas continued his instruction of the board in flood aid. The next meeting will be held March 6 at 7:30 p.m.

MAY'S LEAD

Married Comrades

BY ADELE GARRISON

"Then I think we'll proceed with the original plan, that is, the bell for Kate, will you? We might as well give her a melodramatic twist or two to contrast with her memory for the long and boring days to come after we have been married."

I gave another shiver of apprehension, even as I touched the bell which would summon my faithful housekeeper. My father's disarming smile provided that Kate and I were to remain at the farmhouse in attendance upon Allen Drake and my mother-in-law—with sufficient guards to make their residence safe while the rest of us proceeded to the Main street. But I had visions of what that long association of the mother-in-law and Kate would do to the nerves of both women.

Lillian Mae Plan

"I know," Lillian nodded sagaciously. "It probably will be the hot place with even the hinges heated for both of them. But I have the glimmering of a plan which I will propose to you when it tells to a substantial plan. Don't you have any mixed metaphors? But here! Here comes your housekeeper."

"Come in," I called as Kate's knock and Lillian took charge of things from the instant the door opened.

"Run the door, Kate," she whispered with melodramatic importance and a surreptitious wink at me. "And lock it. Then come close to me. Nobody must hear what I am going to tell you."

If Kate's eyes had opened and more widely, I supposed, she would have been necessary to restore them to normalcy. And she tipped over to Lillian with an air that almost convulsed me.

"You see?" she whispered. "Enlist Kate's aid."

"It's just this," Lillian's tone was solemn and impressively low. "You know as well as we do, Kate, that Mrs. Graham's father has gone away on a very important mission."

"Sure thing," Kate said. "And I know that Mr. Drake he seems to be fader."

"Quite," Lillian stressed the famous monosyllabic comment as she winked again at me. "Then, you know, too, that we mustn't let Mother Graham know what is going on any more than we can help."

"Sure thing," I know," she said. "You old women don't know what I mean, but she can't get it. Shoot me the way you want and I'll shoot you quick as a flash."

"It's just this," Lillian said. "I want you to find Mr. Drake, Mr. Underwood and Mr. Graham and ask them to meet us in the study off the library downstairs. Do this without letting Mother Graham hear you. She's in her room and I think she's asleep."

Letters From Our Readers

AGE AND REASONING

Editor of The Star:

Going over the President's idea of wanting to stuff the supreme court of U. S. with a lot of new judges to accomplish his objectives, it looks to me the President referring to the basic factor of retiring officers of the army and navy at 64 is a poor datum for backing up his idea of fearing the reasoning power of men above 70. Hence from my point of view, army and navy officers trained mostly for combatant service don't get the acid test of their theoretical warfare training for meeting the emergency of actual warfare until it really happens. And if he is right it is difficult to understand why a good many nations of the World war called back to service their retired generals and admirals for supreme command.

LABOR RELATIONS ACT FACES NEW ATTACKS

Ohio and New England Firms Challenge Law Before Supreme Court.

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Three new attacks on constitutionality of the national labor relations act came before the supreme court today shortly before arguments began on other litigation designed to test this law and a companion piece of labor legislation.

Validity of the measure was questioned by Heller Brothers Co. of Newcomstown, O. A C. Lawrence Leather Co. of Penobscot, Maine, and Cabot Manufacturing Co. of Brunswick, Me.

The petitioners argued to the accompaniment of arguments for and against the law, that which guarantees collective bargaining to railroad employees.

Five cases involving constitutionality of the labor relations act which does not apply to railroad workers will be debated during the remainder of the week.

Whether the fresh attacks will be reviewed by the high tribunal may be determined by its decision in the litigation under argument.

The tribunal arranged first to hear concluding debate at noon on validity of the railway labor law.

The first case involving a labor relations measure to be argued was brought by the Associated Press. Its attorneys, John W. Davis, Charles F. Wyzanski Jr. and assistant to the attorney general and Charles J. Egan, general counsel of the labor relations board, rejected the government.

Litigation challenging the rail measure was filed by the Virginian Railway Co. which had been directed by the fourth circuit court of appeals to bargain with representatives of its employees who were members of the American Federation of Labor.
